

CHINESE GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS BOLDLY DEFY THE ALLIED POWERS.

GREAT BATTLE EXPECTED SUNDAY
ALLIED ARMY'S FIRST ENCOUNTER

American and English Troops Leading the Advance On Pekin Must Fight the Chinese Under
Gen. Ma Tomorrow.

Washington, Aug. 4.—[Special Telegram]—The general advance of the allied army to Pekin begun yesterday. The previous movements were a reconnaissance. A dispatch from General Chaffee was received at the war department, dated Tien Tsin, July 31, which announces positively that the main column will be advancing August 3. He makes no mention of the choice for supreme commander nor does it definitely state the strength of the relief column. It is known, however, that it does not consist of less than twenty-five thousand in all branches of the service.

Chefoo, Aug. 4.—[Special Cablegram]—The latest reports from Pekin were brought by disaffected officers of the Chinese army. They are considered reliable. The officers left Pekin on July 15. They say anarchy had reigned in Pekin for weeks and the streets ran blood, the Chinamen fighting among themselves.

Jung Lu, commander in chief of the Chinese forces, and Prince Ching espoused the cause of the foreigners and endeavored, with the part of the army loyal to them, to expel the Boxers.

Later, with the majority of the imperial troops, under anti-foreign leaders, Prince Tuan and General Tung-Fuh-Sian were victorious, and Jung Lu and Prince Ching with their followers were prisoners in their yamens when the bearers of these reports left Pekin.

Prince Tuan in Control.

Prince Tuan and General Tung-Fuh-Sian appear to control the government, according to the officers and issued edicts, printed in the Gazette, exhorting the Chinese to kill all foreigners and native Christians. One officer says that there are 16,000 troops in Pekin, including Tung's army and 8,000 more at Yung-Tsun. The soldiery hold all the streets within a mile of the legations.

The foreign troops when the officers left Pekin had burned and abandoned the Chenman gate. Their ammunition

WAR WITH CHINA INEVITABLE
FORMAL DECLARATION EXPECTED

Depends Upon the Events of the Next Few Days Whether or Not the Great Powers Will Declare War.

London, Aug. 4.—[Special Cablegram]—War between China and the powers seems very near at hand, but whether it will actually come about depends on the events of the next few days. When the Pekin relief army now marching toward the capital comes into conflict with the Chinese troops directed from the imperial palace, it is generally acknowledged the theory that technical war does not exist will very speedily be shot to pieces.

May Prevent Dismemberment.

Certainly a state of war now exists in China, for the Chinese government has forfeited every right to gentle treatment. It promises to deliver the foreigners unharmed, but it does not keep its promise, so the powers cannot suspend operations and wait any longer. They must scatter all opposition and seize Pekin. If the imperial government does not want to see its empire dismembered it must stop all resistance to the advance of the relief army and do all it possibly can to make the task of civilization easy.

Yellow Men to Fight For Years.

The Chinese officials in London firmly maintain that a terrible struggle in the far east can be prevented only by a speedy and full assurance to China from the powers that their intentions are friendly. They declare that if the white race attempts to rob the yellow race of its national heritage in the orient there will be a scene of bloodshed for years to come.

Equipped for Sick Soldiers.

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—Extensive sanitary improvements at the Presidio general hospital will be completed in a few days and will make it one of the best equipped military hospitals in the United States.

Colonel Girard, who is in charge of the hospital, says that the employment of the new power plant will save about $20,000 a year and will vastly increase the efficiency of the hospital service.

The medical division of the department of California has begun preparations for the care of sick and wounded in China, initiating its work by sending out twelve ambulances and fifty hospital tents.

THREATENS TO KILL THE ENVOYS
WILL SEND NO DISPATCHES

Retaliation Is Declared Because of the Advance of the Allies Upon Pekin—Foreigners Are Held
As Hostages.

London, Aug. 4.—[Special Cablegram]—The imperial ruler of China has taken an insolent but impressive way of displaying contempt for the powers by acting upon the advice of the new general, Li Ping Heng, and executing in public Hsu Ching Cheng, the former Chinese Minister to Russia, and one other statesman for suggesting pacific measures toward the powers.

To add to the offense the news is said to come through Li Hung Chang.

Threats for a Purpose.

The dispatch from Goodnow and the press dispatches from China declaring that the officials of that government threaten to massacre the foreigners should the allies enter Pekin, are construed here as indicating the apprehension which exists in Chinese administrative circles that Pekin will be captured. The threats are treated as an admission of the inability of the Chinese army to restrain the allies and as being uttered in the hope that the terms of settlement may be arranged at Tien Tsin or elsewhere and not dictated under the guns of the foreign forces at Pekin.

News From Pekin Censured.

With the exception of reports received through Chinese sources, there is no recent news of the ministers at Pekin.

A message from the Japanese legation on July 29 says the garrison has hope to hold out until relieved, but it will be difficult.

The governor of Shantung reports the ministers safe on July 30, and that arrangements for their journey to Tien Tsin were being discussed.

Li Hung Chang, on the other hand, is said to have declared that the ministers are held as hostages and will be put to death should the allied forces advance.

Rising Is Spreading.

While the Boxers in Pekin are reported to be fighting among themselves, and ill-prepared to resist the advance of the allies, the uprising in China seems to be gaining strength and spreading to other parts of the kingdom. The officials in Quang Tung province are reported as arming the members of the notorious

MILWAUKEE IS GROWING
POPULATION OF 285,315

The New Census Shows a Gain of 80,487 Over the Returns for 1890—This Is An Increase of About 9,000 a Year.

Milwaukee, Aug. 4.—The city of Milwaukee has a population of 285,315, according to the count of the census for 1900, just completed. These are the official figures for the twelfth census as compiled at the Census office from the returns made by the enumerators from the count taken in June. The figures show the city of Milwaukee an increase in population of 80,487 over the returns made by the census of 1890, or an increase of 39.54 per cent.

The population of Milwaukee in 1880 was 115,567, upon which an increase of $0.881 was made during the period from 1880 to 1890 when the total figures amounted to 204,468. The increase to the total present figures make the percentage of increase lower, but the actual increase in population from 1890 to 1900 at 80,487, is only 8,000 less than the increase in the ten-year period previous to 1890.

Leads All in Rate Growth.

The showing made by Milwaukee is regarded by the officials as splendid, surpassing as it does that made by any city thus far recorded by the official count of the census bureau. The increase of 39.54 per cent is indubitable the percentage of increase made by two leading cities thus far counted and is more than 10 per cent greater increase than that recorded by any city for which the count has yet been made. Of the cities for which the count has been completed up to this time the greatest percentage of increase next to Milwaukee was made by Louisville, Ky., with an increase of 27 per cent. This was regarded by the census officials as an excellent showing for that thriving city.

The flourishing and prosperous manufacturing city of Cincinnati showed an increase in population of 9.77 per cent.

Where Population Is Increasing.

The showing made by Milwaukee with its 39.54 per cent. increase fulfills the expectation of the census officials that the states of the Mississippi valley will show the most substantial increase in population, and that their progressive and thriving industrial centers will exhibit to the world the most remarkable gains in population that will be shown by the official figures of the twelfth census.

FOR BADGER SWAMP LANDS

Farmers of Kenosha County Will Reclaim Wet Ground.

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 4.—A project has been started among the farmers of this county to dredge the O Plain river. The river flows through the county and forms part of the Desplaines river after the Illinois state line is crossed. The plan is to deepen the bed of the river and allow it to carry away all the surface water. The dredging will mean the re-

LATE RUMOR THAT
GEN. DEWET IS DEAD

Boers Derail a Train, in Which Four Were Killed—Consul Stowe Aboard But Escaped.

Pretoria, Aug. 2.—[Special Cablegram]—An unconfirmed rumor is current that General Christian De Wet is dead from a shell wound.

London, Aug. 4.—[Special Cablegram]—General Roberts reports that a train was derailed by the Boers yesterday, twenty miles south of Kroonstadt. Four were killed and three injured. The American consul, Stowe, was aboard, but escaped. Lord Algonson Lenox and forty men were also on board, and were captured by the Boers. At the request of Stowe the soldiers were liberated, but Lenox was held prisoner. Roberts says that Hunter reports the total surrendered at three thousand three hundred and forty eight.

TESLA FINDS A LUNG CURE
ELECTRICITY IS A REMEDY

Oscillation Theory Discovered to be Fatal to Disease
Germs—Strong Current Applied to Part of the Body Affected.

New York, Aug. 4.—Unusual interest has been aroused among physicians in a new treatment for tuberculosis evolved by Nikola Tesla. It is described as electrical oscillation, and it is said to be a sure cure of consumption, even in its worst stages.

Dr. Croft C. Carroll of 21 East 24th street, is a strong advocate of Mr. Tesla's system. Other physicians and one elegantly verify to the wonderful virtue of electrical oscillation.

Dr. E. P. Iliff of Newark, a specialist of lung disease, who three weeks ago was declared to be dying of consumption, received his third treatment yesterday at the clinic in Dr. Carroll's office, and then ran to catch a car on his way back to Newark.

Rev. S. W. Switzer, pastor of the Baptist tabernacle in Harrison, N. J., who had been sent to Dr. Carroll in the last stages of consumption, told of his remarkable cure.

Dr. John B. Rich, president of the American Microscopical society, declared that it was the most wonderful demonstration of positive beneficial results that he had ever seen in the treatment of germ diseases.

Works on Apparatus Two Years.

Nikola Tesla had worked for two years on the apparatus which Dr. Carroll is using in his public clinic. It was Dr. Carroll's idea to apply the new principle in electricity evolved by Tesla to the treatment of consumption. Mr. Tesla had predicted that oscillation would accomplish wonders; but had not thought of using it as a germ killer.

By applying the electrode of the Tesla machine Dr. Carroll drives through the affected parts a quantity of electricity which if applied in any other way would cause instant death. With a Tesla "oscillator" he had handled between 2,000 and 3,000 volts of electricity with impunity.

Dr. Carroll says that after the oscillation treatment all tubercular matter is eliminated from the system by the emunctories—the liver, kidneys, bowels and general glandular system. The treatment is one of destruction to the germs.

Theory of the Cure.

Asked for an explanation of the treatment Dr. Carroll said:

"All life is a force manifestation in which electricity plays a part. Life force, spirit force and electric force I believe to be one and the same force. Disease or unhealth is only a difference of potential that requires it to be brought into a state of health."

"The reason why this high oscillation does not take life is because the wave motions of the machine are in synchronism with the life force in the body."

Dr. Carroll declined to allow the Tesla machine to be seen. All of the apparatus that was visible was the glass electrode, which was spoon shaped and hollow. While the current was on there was an opalescent blaze or a series of big sparks in the electrode, which was applied directly to the part affected.

MRS. EDISON SAYS FAIRFAX IS A MYTH

Declares She Left Her Young Husband Because He Was Addicted to Strong Drink.

New York, Aug. 4.—The wife of Thomas A. Edison, Jr., admitted today that she left him at Lake George two weeks ago, but denied emphatically that any man of the name of Fairfax had anything to do with it.

"Such a story is as untrue as it is scandalous," Mrs. Edison said, as she stamped her foot on the floor and shook her fluffy light hair. "I do not know any man named Fairfax and Mr. Edison knows why I have left him. His dissipated habits are solely responsible for my action in leaving him temporarily, for when he has been drinking he has been very abusive in his language to me. He has a jealous disposition, I know, but I have always been a good wife to him, giving him no cause for jealousy. He is a bright young man and I am very sorry for his father. The report that he is not of age is all nonsense, for he is 25 years old."

Addicted to Drink.

For the last year, according to the wife, Mr. Edison has been addicted to drink. Realizing that he had no intention of doing better, Mrs. Edison says she finally decided to leave her husband and wait to see what effect it would have on him. She came away from Lake George without consulting him and went direct to her mother's home. She is living here now. Mrs. Tuohy moved here from Chicago three months ago.

When Mrs. Edison was asked about the report that her husband was going to sue her for divorce and also bring an action against Mr. Fairfax for $50,000, charging him with alienating his wife's affections, she laughed and said it was nothing more than a myth.

Fairfax Is a Myth.

"Yes," Mrs. Tuohy broke in to say, "no man is paying the rent of this apartment. Why, it was even reported that such a man lived here and that his name was on the door. I never heard of Mr. Fairfax and I guess I ought to know who pays the rent when I do it myself."

Mrs. Edison says her husband has been in the city for ten days and is living at the Ashland house. She admits that she has been down town, but only with her sister. "Why shouldn't I walk in Broadway if I want to?" the young woman said, petulantly. "There is no law against it. Perhaps my husband did see me there too, but what if he did? No, I do not expect to go back on the stage. What will I do? Oh, you can say I will stay here and wait for developments."

BANK OF CAMBRIDGE ROBBED

Four Men Use Dynamite, But Get Only $91 in Coin.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 4.—The Bank of Cambridge, in the village of that name, eighteen miles east of this city, was robbed last night by four men who dug into the vault and made two attempts with dynamite to secure the bank's cash. They succeeded in blowing the front of the safe to pieces and shattering the building, but did not get into the inner portion, where the bulk of the cash is kept.

They secured $26 in pennies and $65 in silver and made their escape on a hand car, coming toward this city.

Several people in the village were awakened by two explosions at the bank, but were too badly frightened to investigate. There is no clue to the thieves.

COLQUHOUN ON CHINA.

Present Crisis Discussed by an Authority on the Far East.

ORIGIN OF THE BOXER SOCIETY.

A Writer of Recognized Works on China Tells How the Insurrection Started—Complicity of the Empress Dowager—A Possibility of an Uprising in the Yang-tse Valley.

In endeavoring to obtain any insight into the national life of the Chinese it is necessary, first of all, to rid ourselves of the predisposition to judge everything from our own standpoint, says Archibald I. Colquhoun, author of "China in Transformation," "The Overland to China," etc., in the New York Post. If we try the Chinaman by western standards, we shall simply fail to understand him, for his view of life, his most elementary ethics, even his conception of right and wrong in its broadest sense, are totally opposed to our own. The Chinese compass points to the south and not to the north, like our own, and the Chinese reverse in a similar way many of the conclusions which appear to us absolutely unquestionable. Much that appears to us distorted and ridiculous is to them perfectly natural and inevitable.

There is, however, one powerful sentiment which has dominated China for many centuries whose counterpart, though at present not so well developed, is found very largely in our own country at the present day. The gregarious instinct which drives men together into towns or communities in the first place teaches them, after a complicated civilization has made the struggle for existence more keen, to band themselves together according to their interests and pursuits for mutual protection and benefit.

The Chinese adopted the plan of trades unions and guilds very early in their history, for besides its obvious advantages it appeals to a side of their character which is perhaps little understood. The average Chinese is not at all interested in what is known as higher politics. He is practically governed by an alien race, he has little representation in the councils of the nation, no part in the direction of its affairs. But the Chinese are allowed a great deal of freedom in their local government, and there is little interference in their private matters. On such questions, therefore, the Chinese merchant or shopkeeper is not only keen, but is able to exercise a good deal of influence, though that is usually of the rough and ready order.

The formation of numerous clubs, therefore, so different in their constitution as to give every man the option of joining one or more, was at once an opportunity for recreation to the social Chinaman and a safety valve for his views and grievances on local politics. There were, of course, some clubs whose original aim was larger, the Triad, for instance, one of the oldest and largest, founded as a protest against the Tartar conquest of China. The original aims, however, were generally lost sight of, and the societies became a refuge for bad characters, malcontents and ne'er do wells, as happened with the society of the Triads, who, beginning with the profession of religion and virtue, ended with the wholesale massacres of the horrible Taiping rebellion.

Other societies began with a wholly religious aim, and these probably degenerated sooner than others, since the Chinaman is not really religious, but substitutes for faith a widespread superstition and a profound respect for what is known as fengshui, or occult influences. There are societies of vegetarians, of teetotalers, of non-smokers and celibates, both men and women. There are antagonizing leagues, vigilance committees, trades guilds, mutual loan and benefit societies and a host of others. Bankers form leagues for mutual help and guaranty, thieves are organized and have their codes of honor, beggars are formed into companies and have their chief, who levies blackmail on those who would escape his motley crew.

The society whose name is on every one's lips at present, the so-called Boxers, has been represented as being originally an athletic society, devoted to the practice of boxing, or "butting," as the Chinese call it. This was a very ancient Chinese and Mongol sport, but there is no need to go far afield for an explanation of the name. The society, whose origin is obscure, calls itself "I Ho Chuan," the Righteous Harmony League, but the word chuan, with a different inflection of the voice, means also "fists," and to any one who knows the Chinese fondness for a play upon words it is easy to see the context. At the same time no doubt the aims of the society were for awhile cloaked by the pretext of athletic exercises, but for many months past all such disguise has been thrown aside, drilling has gone on openly and camps have been established.

The original propaganda of the I Ho Chuan was exclusively religious and directed against Roman Catholicism. From that it became anti-Christian and finally anti-foreign. Its birthplace was the province of Shantung, where the high handed policy of Germany has aroused a very strong anti-foreign feeling. The bad season and failure of harvest last year reduced many of the farmers and agriculturists to great straits, and large numbers joined the league in the hope of getting a living by plunder.

At the beginning of the present year the American missionaries of Shantung preferred formal charges against the society and accused several of the provincial authorities of countenance-ing it. The governor of Shantung was one of these, and it is certain that in a secret memorial he advocated the society as a useful agent for driving out foreigners. He was removed from his post on the representations of Germany, but has nevertheless been held in high favor by the court ever since.

As a matter of fact the empress dowager was far from desiring the suppression of the Boxers, and in edicts promulgated from time to time against secret societies, which are all illegal in China, a fine discrimination was shown between other societies of a less seditious tendency and the Boxers, who are described as peacefully practicing athletics and learning gymnastics for self indulgence and to protect their homes and villages. The empress dowager, not only as the representative of the Manchoo-Tartar dynasty, so hated by the Chinese, but also because of her pro-Russian sentiments and the foreign encroachments she has permitted, has become intensely unpopular throughout China.

Ever since the coup d'etat she has felt more and more the pressure from without, and, deprived by the evident powerlessness of the government and her antiform measures of the sympathy and support of a very large section of the Chinese people, she imagined that by secretly encouraging the anti-foreign movement she might at the same time get rid of uncomfortable neighbors and reinstate herself in the sympathies of the Chinese. Under her protection, however, the society which was to have done her dirty work assumed proportions which she was not able to control. The Boxers took for their motto "Uphold the dynasty, exterminate the foreigner," and in so doing they alienated at once a large proportion of the better class of their countrymen, who realize the effectlessness of the Manchoo dynasty, and at the same time they attracted to their standard a motley crowd of the lowest and poorest of the people, who merely wished to participate in the looting of the foreign devils and of native Christians.

China has been well called "the classic ground of revolution." The country has hardly ever been free from such disturbances in one part or the other, and with the experiences of the past and the warnings uttered with no uncertain voice by those on the spot for the last six months it is extraordinary that the present crisis should have taken this country so completely by surprise. A lesson might well have been learned from the disturbances in the Yang-tse valley, throughout which I passed last year on my journey from Moscow across Siberia and through China. These disturbances were allowed to convulse the country for some time before any adequate measures were taken, and inquiries at the Peking legation were met with the reassuring answer, to borrow the historic expression of the Potomac, "Everything quiet on the Yang-tse!"

This rebellion had many features in common with the Boxer rising. Here, as in the north, the movement was first directed against the Roman Catholics, was winked at, if not encouraged, by the local officials and finally grew beyond their control. Once the demon of destruction is let loose the distinctions between creeds, indeed any distinction save that which divides oriental from European, is soon lost sight of. The rebellion of 1868 grouped itself around Yu Mantze, who was its head and leader, although not personally possessed of any particular ability or character. The people were disaffected and restless and ready to follow any man who cared to rise.

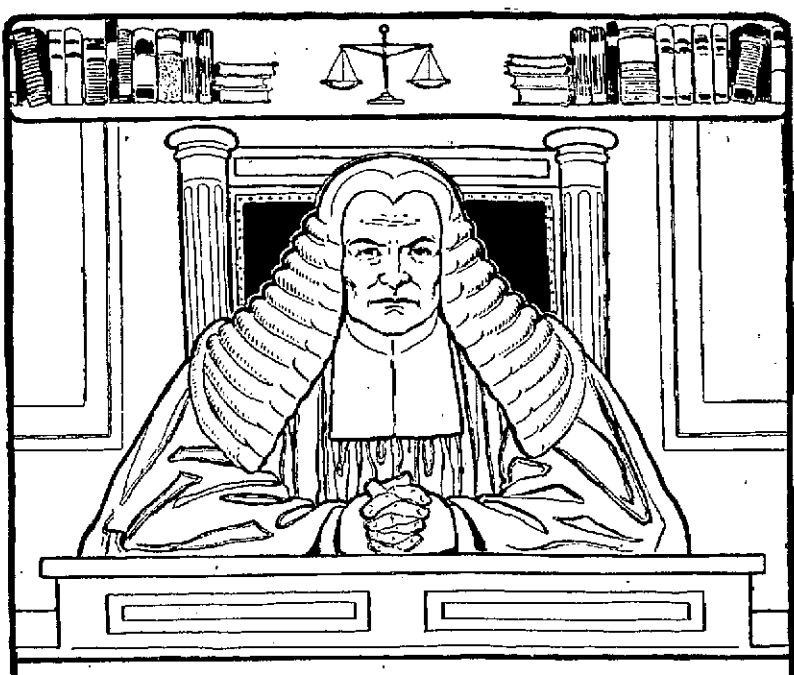

As has been said already, the Boxers did not trouble after last autumn to conceal their presence or their raison d'etre. Their headquarters were at Pao-tung-fu, some 80 miles south of Peking, where there is a large missionary station, and here they established a big camp and recruited and drilled just as if they were a properly recognized local militia. The movement spread into the two neighboring provinces, more camps were established and frequent attacks made on the smaller and more scattered communities and especially upon native Christians. In February last one of the Roman Catholic bishops reported that 5,000 fugitives had sought his protection. The missionaries and others with practical knowledge of China foresaw the inevitable moment when, drunk with success, the rebels would turn their attention from native Christians and their teachers to all foreigners without distinction of creed, but their warnings produced no result.

The actual details, the inner history of the Boxer insurrection, sink into insignificance beside the immense issues which are likely to come out of it. One thing should be inevitable—the deposition of the empress dowager. Her connection, direct or indirect, with the rising is too clear to be explained away, and if another reason were wanted it would be found in the dissatisfaction of the great bulk of the Chinese with her aims and methods. That she is falling more and more under Russian influence complicates the situation, but does not strengthen her position either with her own people or with the other powers.

When the rabble rout of Boxers have been made to feel the presence of something stronger than themselves, when Peking is again quiet and the powers sit down to reckon up their claims, then will the critical moment arrive. A very serious reflection is induced by the possibility, by no means remote, that the next rising of the Chinese people, unless steps are taken to support and conciliate the local authorities, may be in the Yang-tse valley, the boasted "British sphere of influence."

Another Follower of the Flag.

Among other things it may be suggested, according to the Chicago Post, that the American army male follows the flag, and follows it very closely.

"THE BOSS AND FANATIC"

Medical journals do not often dabble in politics, and for that reason, the fact that The Medical Brief, one of the leading publications in this line, has taken up the political cudgel is exceedingly significant. The Brief publishes the following editorial:

"Mr. Williams Jennings Bryan is both a boss and a fanatic. To boss his adherents, and to drive them to endorse his financial folly in advocating sixteen to one, shows what a dangerous fanatic he is. His financial ideas would certainly bring on a financial crisis if he is elected president.

"Prof. Laughlin, of the University of Chicago, a recognized authority on the currency question, tells us that the gold legislation of last March was a sort of political abortion. While it declares our intention to maintain the gold standard, and the party of all monies, no provision is made for doing this with the $575,000,000 of silver, worth less than half its face value. Our financial system has no new defenses, nor have the old been strengthened, since the gold Act of March 14 provides no practical means for redeeming silver in gold at the option of the holder. This is the only way to maintain a parity between the two metals, and consequently to preserve the gold standard.

"All Mr. Bryan, as president, would have to do to bring us to a safer basis, would be to instruct the secretary of treasury to pay maturing indebtedness in silver. And after his behavior during the convention, we can not doubt that he would unhesitatingly plunge the country into such a terrible crisis that his reputation for sincerity might be maintained."

"Do you realize what financial anarchy implies? Read the history of Black Friday. Then stop and think, that Mr. Bryan's election would produce a state of affairs infinitely worse. Stock markets—those barometers of financial conditions—would go to pieces. Brokerage firms be wiped out. Banks break. Business houses lose their credit and assign. American securities abroad would be dumped on home markets and unloaded at any price. Foreign capital invested here would be recalled at every sacrifice. Factories would close for want of orders. Employees and wage-earners of every description would be discharged in droves. Everybody would want to sell and nobody to buy. Necessaries of life would mount skyward. Sympathy, good-will and obligingness would be frozen up. The pressure would make everyone hard and selfish. All this would be precipitated at once because of arbitrary interference with natural conditions.

"Are not dollars scarce enough without cutting their value in two? Are not commodities dear enough without doubling their price? Think!

"Mr. Bryan is sincere and dangerous in proportion. Sincerity is not truth. It emanates from a belief which may be true or false. In his case it is pure fanaticism. He is by nature an iron-willed despot. By his fanaticism and strong will he hypnotizes men of less force and bends them to his notion.

"Do not let old beliefs, ties or customs sway your judgment or govern your acts on election day. Remember that a vote is a power for good or evil. Summon up your patriotism and cast yours for sound finance—that bottom rock of governmental integrity and social health. Country before party or personal inclination. Physicians are always prompt to respond to the call of duty. They have an opportunity now to aid in preventing an epidemic of financial delirium."

The suggestion that the Janesville democracy endorse Hon. Cornelius Buckley for governor, does not appear to meet with an enthusiastic reception. Perhaps the action is only delayed, however, pending the issuance of orders by Mr. Buckley himself.

The truth is mighty, and shall prevail. Let the galled jade wince. Better things are in store for Janesville. The gang dies hard, but die it will. Whether or not it demise is violent or peaceful remains to be seen, but one thing is certain—its days are numbered.

Two wrongs do not make a right. If the charter and the ordinances apply in one case, they apply in all cases. Let exact justice be done, all along the line.

No man who persists in butting his head against a stone wall should fill the air with vain regrets if he hurts himself.

It also appears that Europe is importing, unwillingly, a large number of American anarchists.

However, the name of the famous Nonesuch Brothers still remains at the head of the circus list.

The newspapers of the state warmly praise Mr. LaFollette's caucus law suggestions.

The city of Janesville, as a corporation, should not be used to vent any personal spites.

People who live in glass houses should not even throw crushed stone.

"Pshaw!" said the Shah. "You never touched me!"

The assembly candidates are beginning to assemble.

WILD CRY FROM PEKIN.

Foreigners Make Desperate Appeal to Be Saved from Massacre.

Chefoo, July 26 (via Shanghai Aug. 2).—Reports from Peking brought by disaffected officers of the Chinese army are to the effect that all of the legations' forces were killed. Chinamen caught a messenger who was trying to leave the legations on July 10, with the following message:

"To Any Foreign Commander: Make all haste if you intend to save us. We can hold out but a few days."

The officers left Peking on July 15. They say anarchy had reigned in Peking for months and the streets ran blood, the Chinamen fighting among themselves.

Jung Lu, commander-in-chief of the Chinese forces, and Prince Ching espoused the cause of the foreigners and endeavored with the part of the army loyal to them to expel the Boxers.

Later, with the majority of the imperial troops, under anti-foreign leaders, Prince Tuan and Gen. Tung Fuh Sian were victorious and Jung Lu and Prince Ching, with their followers, were prisoners in their yamens when the bearers of these reports left Peking.

Prince Tuan and Gen. Tung Fuh Sian appear to control the government, according to the officers, and issued edicts, printed in the gazettes, exhorting the Chinese to kill all foreigners and native Christians. One officer says that there are 16,000 troops in Peking, including Tung's army, and 8,000 more at Tungtsun.

The soldiers hold all the streets within a mile of the legations. The foreign troops, when the officers left Peking, had burned and abandoned the Chienmen gate.

Their ammunition appeared to be failing and their quick-firing guns had been silenced for some days before July 15 and they were using their rifles only when hard pressed. The officers said that every foreign bullet kills a Chinaman. The reports state that the American and English troops defeated Gen. Ma in a night battle on July 10.

PREDICTS DEFEAT FOR ALLIES.

Pritchard Morgan Says a Great Army Surrounds Peking.

New York, Aug. 4.—A dispatch to the World from London says: "This fresh advance upon Peking I believe will prove a terrible military and political mistake," said Pritchard Morgan.

"My latest information," he continued, "is that there are 70,000 Chinese troops between Tientsin and Peking and probably 100,000 in and around Peking itself."

"This expedition probably will be compelled to return like Admiral Seymour's. Besides, the Chinese government may lose the power to protect the legations any longer when the news that a foreign army is advancing becomes known.

"The release of the ministers could have been secured by Li Hung Chang if the powers had consented to negotiate through him. But the ministers refuse to leave Peking, because while they are there the Chinese government is responsible."

The failure to agree upon a commander-in-chief of the allied forces creates consternation. Labouchere cynically observed:

"When the allied armies begin to fight with each other the Boxers will have to be called in to restore peace."

FAVOR DESTROYING PEKIN.

Foreigners at Treaty Ports Bellow in Striking a Crushing Blow.

Chefoo, July 29, (via Shanghai, Aug. 2).—Public opinion and the foreign press at the treaty ports are alarmed at the possibility that the Chinese would prevail upon the powers to consent to the establishment of peace without inflicting punishment befitting the Chinese government's crime.

Officials, persons engaged in commercial pursuits and missionaries of all nationalities are remarkably united. They believe Peking should be destroyed as an object lesson and that if the dynasty is continued it should be forced to establish the capital at some accessible city, the Americans suggesting Nankin.

This is considered important, as the Chinese always believe that China, defeated the powers in 1860 because the capital remained intact. It is also thought that guarantees to prevent excessive armament should be demanded, and that China should be compelled, publicly and definitely, to renounce the fiction that the foreign ministers are representatives of tributary powers. There is a strong demand that unusual punishment, like the destruction of the king's tombs, be inflicted.

FIRST REGIMENT TO GO INTO CAMP

Local Boys Left For Camp
Douglas Early This Morning.

ROSTER OF COMPANY I

It Will Join Beloit, Monroe and Other Companies On the Road.

MONDAY ACTIVE WORK BEGINS

The armory of Company I, First Regiment, W. N. G., presented a busy appearance this morning. The annual encampment of state troops at Camp Douglas will open tomorrow when the First Regiment will take possession. The headquarters of the regiment are in Milwaukee where four companies are stationed.

Companies C, E, I and L left Janesville this morning on the 9:50 train on the C. M. & St. P. railroad. They will join the remaining companies of the regiment on the way and will arrive in camp with about 750 men and officers. Troop A of the light horse squadron will also be in camp with them. Col. Falk of Milwaukee and the headquarters staff left this morning for camp with the Milwaukee companies.

Officers In Charge.

Company E of Monroe, was in charge of Captain M. C. Duerst, and Lieutenants Arthur Musselman and Fred Odell, and had sixty-two men and officers. Company C, Whitewater, in charge of Captain F. P. Goodhue and Lieutenants Ed. Weyher and Chas. Johnson, had sixty men, not including the officers. Company L of Beloit, in charge of Captain M. H. Taylor and Lieutenants F. C. Maltress and J. H. Tobin, had sixty-three men, including officers. Company I, in charge of Captain Charles F. Achterberg and Lieutenants Henry F. Baldwin and Albert Thom, had fifty-seven enlisted men. Major Stearns, of Monroe, was on the train that left this morning and was in charge of this battalion. Major J. B. Whiting, Jr., left for the camp with the Janesville company. Major Whiting is the regimental surgeon and has two other surgeons with the rank of captain to assist him.

Roster of Company I.

The roster of Company I was as follows:
Captain, Charles Achterberg;
1st Lieutenant, Henry F. Baldwin;
2d Lieutenant, Albert Thom;
1st Sergeant, B. E. Brown;
Quartermaster, Sergeant Hill;
Sergeants, Manthel, Brossman, Callen and Dixon;

Guard Detail Tonight.

The guard detail for tonight from Company I is Corporal Church, Privates Barker, Belton and Brooks.

Arriving in camp the companies will prepare their quarters and in the evening there will be a parade. Sunday will be a day of rest, but Monday the active work begins. There will be officers' school every afternoon and the program for the week will be as follows:
Monday morning—First battalion small arms practice.
Second and Third battalions, battalion drill.
Afternoon—First battalion small arms practice. Second and Third battalions, extended order drill.
Tuesday morning—Second battalion small arms practice. First battalion drill. Third battalion, outpost duty.
Afternoon—Second battalion, small arms practice. First battalion, extended order drill. Third battalion, officers' patrol.
Wednesday morning—Third battalion, small arms practice. First battalion, outpost duty. Second battalion, outpost duty.
Afternoon—Third battalion, small arms practice. First and Second battalions, officers' patrol.
Thursday—Practice march by battalions or by regiment, camping out one night and returning at an early hour the next morning.
Friday—Payment of troops. Camp broken.

The Cars Bearing the Companies From

Whitewater, Monroe, Beloit and Janesville were attached to the regular morning train for Madison; but from there, where the rest of the companies would be picked up, they would have a special train.

Where It Will Keep.

When the returns are counted next November, the Democrats would do well to put their handsome minority in the cold storage warehouse owned and operated by the Tammany ice trust.

Still Running.

The supreme court of the United States is still doing business at the same old stand.

There will be an unusually large number of men in camp this year. A number of the companies have lately been formed and the captains have made every effort to take a full company to camp.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW

AT CRYSTAL SPRINGS

Capt. Buchholz has made arrangements to give a grand vaudeville show at Crystal Springs park Sunday, August 5th.

Baker & Fonda's Vaudeville Company, including singers, comedians, dancers, musical artists and mimics have been secured for the occasion.

This company has delighted large audiences wherever it has appeared and the performance to be given at Crystal Springs will be up to their usual standard. A day of pleasure is assured to all who attend the performances at Crystal Springs park. The steamer Columbia will leave for the park at 10 a. m. and 2, 3 and 4 o'clock p. m. Go and see it all and have a good time. Everything for twenty-five cents.

FEDERATION OF REFORMERS

The Annual Convention at Camp Clegghorn August 9.

Waupaca, Wis., Aug. 4—A rally of the Wisconsin Federation of reformers will be held at Camp Clegghorn, August 9. This organization was organized two years ago to combine the moral forces of the state to secure the possible reforms most needed on which all churches and reform societies could unite. It is also meant to arouse and educate public sentiment to demand and secure better nominations, and better enforcement of law, and where plainly needed, new laws.

Nine of the leading church organizations have joined in this federation. This convention will take up the most vital subjects. Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts of Washington, D. C., will give an address on "Our Nation's Hopes and Perils at the Crossing of the Centuries." C. C. McClaughey of Waupaca, will speak on "Suppression of Crime."

The Campaign Button.

We have heard the thrilling story of the man behind the gun. We've applauded him and marveled at the wonders he has done. But the fearless hero's glory is forgotten—put away—And the man behind the button is in evidence today.

Let us frankly acknowledge the enormous debt we owe to that patient, plodding fellow. The good man behind the button. Let us give him the praise and credit. To the man behind the plow. But the man behind the button comes to save the nation now.

Oh, the hero's help is needed. When the clouds of war descend, And upon the sturdy soldier. Weighty matters shall depend. But how long, O friend and brother, Could our institutions stand If the man behind the button Were not rampant in the land? —S. E. Kiser in Chicago Times-Herald.

CAUSED A LARGE AMOUNT OF DAMAGE

FIRE IN THE BAILEY COTTON BAT MILL LAST NIGHT.

Flames Started in the Condensing Room and Were Hard to Fight On Account of the Dense Smoke From Burning Cotton—Loss Will Reach About $3,500.

A fire last evening in the carding room of the Bailey Cotton bat mill on North River street, caused a large amount of damage. The loss cannot be estimated fully until the damage done the carding machines is known. A number of them are ruined and will have to be replaced. They are expensive machines and their bill will foot up into the thousands. Insurance to the amount of $3,500 was carried on the buildings, machinery and stock, which is considerably less than the loss will amount to.

The alarm of fire was turned in from box 14 at 6:37 o'clock. The department made quick time and were soon on the scene.

The fire started in the carding room, a low, one story building next to the railroad track. Heavy smoke poured from the building on all sides and the flames soon appeared at the rear end and communicated with a small building to the south that was connected with the card room. The flames in the building were soon extinguished, four streams of water being poured into the building from different directions.

The fire being in the cotton stored in the building made it exceedingly difficult to get at on account of the heavy smoke, and the department were forced to draw it out in order to make a sure thing of it.

The fire was confined to the card room and although considerable cotton was burned the chief damage was to the machines, many of which are a total loss.

The origin of the fire is a mystery as no work had been done in the room that day. This is not the first fire that has been in the mill, numerous other small blazes having started at different times, but have always been extinguished without much loss other than smoking up the woodwork. The last serious fire having taken place some years ago when a large part of the mill was consumed. The mill was operated by Chester,

Bailey & Sons, for many years, but has lately come into the possession of T. P. Burns, through the foreclosure of a mortgage. Since that time has been operated by him. Mr. Burns thinks the loss, will equal the insurance if not more when the entire extent of the damage done is ascertained.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

THE private car of A. J. Earling, general manager of the C. M. & St. P. R. R. is in the city. Mr. Earling is expected today from Fox Lake, Ill., where he started to drive along the line of the Janesville & Southeastern railroad on a tour of inspection.

GAINS FORTUNE AND WIFE

Young Man of Racine Returns to Old Country to Claim Them.

Racine, Wis., Aug. 4—Chris Anderson, a mechanic of this city, 25 years old, has just started for Denmark with a brother to claim a fortune of $50,000 left by the death of their parents.

Six years ago Chris Anderson lived at Copenhagen. He was in love with a comely Danish maiden. They quarreled, and he came to America, notwithstanding the protestations of his parents. His brother also came to America, but the two were separated, and Chris thought his brother dead until a letter came from him dated in a Dakota town, containing news of the parent's death. Chris says he will settle up the affairs in the old country, wed his first love and return to Racine.

COL. FULLER NAMES A LARGE STAFF

FROM ALL PARTS OF THE STATE

Every Precaution Taken to Insure Smooth Sailing

For the Republican State Convention Next

Wednesday—Expect a Big Meeting.

Milwaukee, Aug. 4—Col. Harry S. Fuller, sergeant at arms of the republican state convention which is to be held at the Exposition building next Wednesday has selected his list of assistants. The management of a convention of the size of that which is to choose a state ticket and the supervision of arrangements which include many details whose number the average convention goes little realizes, is an undertaking of no small proportions and to properly execute his plan, Col. Fuller requires a large corps of assistants. These have been selected from various sections of the state and nearly every one is known in republican circles.

Col. H. A. Winslow, Chief Assistant.

Col. Fuller's right hand man, the chief assistant sergeant at arms, is to be Col. Hoyt A. Winslow, of Fond du Lac, while the first assistant will be F. L. Hunt of Phillips, Edward J. Meisenheimer of Milwaukee, third assistant. Upon these four assistants with sergeant at arms Fuller the responsibility for the smooth sailing of the gathering will fall, while the following persons have been chosen to further aid in seating the delegates and providing for the proper accommodation of all who attend:

Large Force of Assistants

Fred Korblo, Ackerville; Fred Gilman Evansville; Victor E. Rogers, Hazel Green; John

Fisher, Janesville; A. C. Backus, Kewaskum; W. D. McComb, Lima Center; G. E. Vandercook, Peter Flagg, Charles Bennett, E. A. Hartman, Paul D. Gurnea, Alfred T. Rogers, Thomas P. Nelson, Rodney A. Edwards, W. S. Kies, A. W. Gratz, Madison; R. F. Folcomb, Monroe; J. H. Realy, Neenah; L. J. Tuckor, Portville; J. D. Stewart, Prairie du Chien; S. T. Walker, Rhinelander; L. C. Boyce, Virginia; Arthur W. James, James M. Moore, Roy Benjamin, Waukesha; Byron Rosenkrans, Waukesha; John A. McGillivray, Marinette; and about fifty Milwaukee men.

A Large Gathering.

Chairman Treat said last night: "It is certainly going to be an exceptionally large gathering, for I have heard of large numbers who are coming merely to see how the thing is done, and not because they have any duty to perform." The best of feeling seems to be everywhere, and this is one of the reasons why the attendance at the meeting, which is sure to be harmonious, will be of unusual proportions."

Speech by Mr. La Follette.

"No, Gov. Shaw of Iowa, will not be able to come as I had hoped, so the only speakers will be Chairman Adams and Mr. La Follette himself, who without doubt will be called on after his nomination. The convention will be called at noon, and the chairman's speech with the appointment of convention committees will take up the time probably until after 1:30 o'clock. Then there will be an adjournment to perhaps 3 o'clock, and the work of the convention will soon be under way."

JEWES ARE SEEKING NEW HOMES

THOUSANDS COMING TO AMERICA

Many Passing Through Austria With Not Enough Money to Pay Fare—Canadian Official Say

Each Arrival Must Pay $50.

Vienna, Aug. 4.—It is estimated that over 5,000 Jewish emigrants from Roumania have passed through Vienna during the last month on the way to Canada. A majority of them have been penniless, having nothing save the fare and tales of oppression endured in Roumania and with their misery plainly visible in their faces. All of them arouse much public sympathy here and the contribution from Christians as well as from Jews have been liberal.

Many Penniless Turned Back.

Last week over 2,000 arrived here, and on Saturday 800 more, chiefly women and children, who had not even the price of fare beyond Vienna. The authorities here compelled them to return, loading them in a train and sending them to Buda-Pesth, and the officials there sent them to the Roumanian border, but the Roumanian authorities refused to re-admit them into the country, and only after three days' delay and energetic action on the part of the Hungarian State department was the crossing of the border permitted.

Most Each Have Fifty Dollars.

Meanwhile over 600 more had arrived at Buda-Pesth. They were held there while the Israeli council wired the Canadian authorities and received word that only emigrants possessing $50 would be admitted. Since Monday $20,000 has been raised in Buda-Pesth by public subscription and tomorrow 600 Jews will start America-wards.

Thousands More Waiting.

It is stated that over 16,000 of such emigrants are ready to leave Roumania for Canada, and will go before winter.

That the United States will need to watch the Canadian border closely is firmly believed here, for the majority of those talked with seem to regard the United States rather than Canada as the land of promise.

SHELL MEN AND BUNCO STEERERS

They Found Janesville a Poor Town to Work During the Presence of the Wallace Circus.

The crowd of sure-thing gamblers' shell men and bunco steerers with the Wallace Shows, found Janesville a poor town in which to work their schemes to catch the unwary. Their reputation for having a large following of crooks and gamblers had preceded them and Chief Hogan made up his mind that the things carried on in Rockford, Oshkosh, Kenosha and other towns visited by the show would not go in Janesville.

When the show struck town yesterday morning, the head of the crowd began sounding to see how far they could go. They were told by Chief Hogan that nothing would go, and the first one he caught at anything out of the way would be arrested. They were a sore lot, but they knew the chief meant what he said, and they took no chances.

NEATH THE SHADOW OF DEATH

Funeral of S. H. Gish.

The funeral of the late S. H. Gish was held from his home at 151 South Third street at 10 o'clock this morning. Many of his friends gathered at the house to pay their last respects to the deceased.

The Rev. W. A. Hall of the Court Street M. E. church officiated. The pallbearers were W. H. Bonesteel, W. J. McIntyre, S. C. Burnham, J. G. Hayner, W. G. Palmer and Samuel Wright. The interment was at Oak Hill cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. Wm. Norton.

The last rites over the remains of Mrs. Wm. Norton were held from the house, 206 Gold street, this morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Patrick's church at 9:30, the Reverend Dean McGinnity officiating. A large number of friends gathered to pay their last respects to the departed. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The interment was at Mount Olivet cemetery.

TO FURNISH COAL FOR THE COUNTY

J. W. Carpenter was the successful bidder for furnishing the county with coal for the court house and jail. The bids are as follows:

SHALL MEN AND BUNCO STEERERS

They Found Janesville a Poor Town to Work During the Presence of the Wallace Circus.

The crowd of sure-thing gamblers' shell men and bunco steerers with the Wallace Shows, found Janesville a poor town in which to work their schemes to catch the unwary. Their reputation for having a large following of crooks and gamblers had preceded them and Chief Hogan made up his mind that the things carried on in Rockford, Oshkosh, Kenosha and other towns visited by the show would not go in Janesville.

When the show struck town yesterday morning, the head of the crowd began sounding to see how far they could go. They were told by Chief Hogan that nothing would go, and the first one he caught at anything out of the way would be arrested. They were a sore lot, but they knew the chief meant what he said, and they took no chances.

NEATH THE SHADOW OF DEATH

Funeral of S. H. Gish.

The funeral of the late S. H. Gish was held from his home at 151 South Third street at 10 o'clock this morning. Many of his friends gathered at the house to pay their last respects to the deceased.

The Rev. W. A. Hall of the Court Street M. E. church officiated. The pallbearers were W. H. Bonesteel, W. J. McIntyre, S. C. Burnham, J. G. Hayner, W. G. Palmer and Samuel Wright. The interment was at Oak Hill cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. Wm. Norton.

The last rites over the remains of Mrs. Wm. Norton were held from the house, 206 Gold street, this morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Patrick's church at 9:30, the Reverend Dean McGinnity officiating. A large number of friends gathered to pay their last respects to the departed. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The interment was at Mount Olivet cemetery.

TO REIGN AS HUMBERT DID.

New King of Italy Issues a Proclamation.

PRaises His Father's Deeds.

Says His Rule Shall Be Outlined by Imperishable Remembrances—Strength Comes from Love of Subjects for Monarch They Venerated.

Monza, Aug. 4.—King Victor Emmanuel III, has addressed a proclamation to the Italian people, in which he says: "The second king of Italy is dead. Escaping, thanks to his valor as a soldier, the danger of battle, and departing unharmed, thanks to Providence, from the risks he confronted so courageously to end public calamities, this good and virtuous king left a victim to atrocious crime while with easy conscience and without fear of danger he was participating in the joys of his people in their fetes. It was not permitted to me to be present at the last breath of my father, but I understand my first duty to be to follow the counsel he left me and to imitate the virtues of the king and first citizen of Italy. My reign shall be outlined by imperishable remembrances. May God aid me and may the love of my people fortify me so that I may concentrate all my cares as a king to the guardianship of liberty and the defense of the monarchy united by indissoluble bonds for the supreme interest of the country. Solidity of thought and affection will always be the most certain bulwark of my reign."

Plot to Kill the Queen.
Lana Said to Have Confessed to the Authorities.

New York, Aug. 4.—Information from Rome is printed here to the effect that Antonio Lana, arrested as an accomplice of Bresci, has confessed, affirming that a plot existed involving the simultaneous assassination of King Humbert and Queen Margherita.

QUEEN MARGHERITA.

AN ANARCHIST MEETING.

Proceedings of a Gathering of King-Killers Early in May.

New York, Aug. 4.—There is a chance that hate will reveal to the authorities much concerning the alleged plotting of the anarchists at Paterson to kill the crowned heads of Europe. In a saloon in Straight street an Italian who is not known to the proprietor of the place said he knew of a meeting held in the city early in May, of which he intended to inform the authorities. "The Group of Existence," he said, "held a meeting about the 1st of May, and after the others had departed the leaders held a long secret session. Those present were Bresci, Quintavalli, Graisoni, and Alphonso Blandies, Esteve, and Widmar, the editor of the paper issued by the group, and one or two others whom I may not reveal or may, as circumstances occur. These men talked over a trip which Bresci, Quintavalli, Graisoni, Lana, and some others were to make. The meeting was held to read a letter from Count Malatesta. There were also letters from Genoa and Paris. Quintavalli left Paterson after the meeting, which ended early in the morning. Bresci also left, but came back on May 12 and collected his money at the silk mill. Malatesta is the man who led in all these things. His is a great mind. The others are weak."

Alexandro Rubiotti has written a letter to Captain Walter B. Usher of the West Hoboken police stating that he had been persecuted by the anarchists because he had displayed an Italian flag. He also said he personally knew Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert. Rubiotti, or Ruberti, as he signs himself, is at present confined in the Tombs. When seen tonight he said he had not only written to Captain Usher, but to the Italian consul general in this city.

May Identify Shah's Assassin.
Paris, Aug. 4.—At the meeting of the cabinet it was announced that the would-be assassin of Muzaffer-Eddin, shah of Persia, had given his name as Saloon. A man of this name who had been regarded and watched as an anarchist disappeared from Paris in 1895 and had not since been located.

Abductor Is Whipped.
Lincoln, Ill., Aug. 4.—A severe horse-whipping was administered to William Gribben of the street life by Kirkland Hoffman, a relative of a young woman whom Gribben is said to have abducted. The Hoffmans, who live at Bartonville, allege that Gribben induced the girl to join him here by a promise of marriage, which he has not fulfilled. After the castigation Gribben left town hurriedly, and the girl was taken home to her family.

UNABLE TO PUNISH SIPIDIO.

Belgian Government Tells Britain It Cannot Infringe the Law.

London, Aug. 4.—The Belgian government has informed Great Britain that in the case of Sipidio it could not infringe the law, however great its desire might be to punish the accused. Brussels, Aug. 4.—The discussion in the British house of commons in regard to the Sipidio case caused such indignant protests from leading newspapers that the government has furnished the following explanation to the press: "Although the government desired to incarcerate Sipidio, it was obliged to wait three days after the judgment had been rendered, which is the legal delay that enables an acquitted person to make five appeals. The government regrets that Sipidio escaped in the meantime, but denies responsibility, having acted strictly in accordance with the law."

Strike on Canadian Pacific.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 4.—A strike of big magnitude, which threatens to grow, was declared on the Canadian Pacific railway, and the machinists, blacksmiths, boiler-makers, fitters, laborers, and locomotive painters are out, from Lake Superior to the Pacific coast, at Moosejaw, Medicine Hat, Revelstoke, Kamloops, Vancouver, Winnipeg, Lagan, Field, and Cranbrook. In Winnipeg, including the men dismissed on Monday, 650 are out. The men claim the dismissals last week were an attempt on the part of the Canadian Pacific railway to break up their unions, hence the strike. The men also say they wanted to draw up a new schedule, but the railway refused transportation to the delegation. It is hinted the strike will become sympathetic and extend over the entire service, including engineers and firemen.

Tells of Missing Witness.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 4.—Richard Dick, one of the defendants in the Goebel murder case, has become suspicious that he is not receiving fair treatment from his co-defendants and that he has had an interview with attorneys for the prosecution, in which he said that he wants Mason Hockersmith as a witness. He says Hockersmith has been spirited away, and that the attorneys for the other defendants will do nothing to find him. He asserts that Hockersmith told him that he had been offered $1,200 to kill Goebel, and had been shown how it could be done through a window in the office of the secretary of state. He said Hockersmith asked him to consider and asked Combs' advice. He told Hockersmith to have nothing to do with it. They were talking on the subject when the fatal shot was fired.

ARE HANDLED LIKE CATTLE.

Emigrants Under Contract Thus Treated.

HERDED ON BOARD A SHIP.

Portuguese Hired to Work on the Hawaiian Plantations—Shipping Agent at San Francisco Allows No One to Talk to Them—$20 a Month.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 4.—Forty Portuguese emigrants, destined for the sugar plantations of Hawaii, have arrived at Oakland. They were handled by a shipping agent as if they were so many cattle. They could not speak English and the condition of their clothing was lamentable. Every effort to talk with them was frustrated by two men, who appeared to be acting as guards.

Joseph Dureo of Honolulu, who directed their transportation, said he had induced them to forsake the coal district of Pennsylvania for the more fruitful pastures of Hawaii. The manner of their shipment gave the impression they were contract laborers. Twenty minutes before the band of ragged and ill-fed men, women, and children boarded the vessel, Captain Austin of the sailing vessel John G. North emphatically stated he was not going to carry passengers. A few minutes afterwards an old day coach which had been switched from the overland train was sent down to the end of the dock. It was crowded with the Portuguese, who were talking excitedly in their native tongue. The door at one end of the car was nailed up. A guard stood at the other end of the car to prevent the occupants from getting out. When asked for information about the trip he refused to talk or allow any one in the car to say anything.

As soon as the car reached the end of the wharf the emigrants were herded on board the ship like so many sheep. Captain Austin refused to explain the sudden change in his plans. As soon as the last of the emigrants' belongings were hoisted on board the vessel it drifted out into the stream. From the conversation between Dureo and one of the guards it appears that the emigrants were engaged to work on the sugar plantation for $20 a month. Every effort to find from the emigrants themselves whether they were United States citizens or not was frustrated by the interference of the guards.

Murder Case Revived.

Boston, Aug. 4.—There is a sensational development in the Harvard murder mystery. It is announced that the friends of H. R. Grogan, who was killed on July 4, are making efforts to bring to trial Professor Eastman of Harvard, whom Grogan is said to have denounced as his murderer with his dying breath. Only a fortnight ago Judge Almy of Cambridge, after an examination, declined to hold Eastman for trial on the charge of murder, on the grounds that the state had not produced sufficient evidence. The decision caused an extraordinary sensation. It is announced by G. R. H. Grogan, father of the victim, that every effort will be made to bring Professor Eastman to trial. Eastman is living in Cambridge.

Faith Could Not Cure.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 4.—Investigation is being made by County Physician Washington into the circumstances preceding the death of Reginald W. Bury. Bury was a believer in Christian Science and his death was caused by appendicitis. He was attended by Wilmot M. Sheston, a faith healer. When Bury was asked if he would have a regular physician, he said: "I am perfectly competent to exercise my powers to overcome disease. I do not desire any different treatment." Friends sent for a physician, but when he arrived Bury was dead.

Archbishop Hennessy's Will.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 4.—The will of the late Archbishop John Hennessy of Dubuque, Iowa, has been filed for probate here by the executors, Roger Ryan and Clement Johannes of Dubuque. The whole estate amounts to about $1,000,000, $400,000 of which is Minnesota real estate, the remainder real and personal property, situated in Iowa.

The Minnesota property is divided among nine relatives. The Iowa property is divided between relatives and sisterhoods of the church.

Reclaim Holy City.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 4.—A Seekers of Zion society has been organized here by a number of orthodox Hebrews, which will from now on contribute to the international fund being raised for the redemption of Jerusalem by the Jews of the world. There are thousands of Hebrews in the city eligible and an enormous membership is expected within the next year.

New Line to Salt Lake City.

Evansville, Wyo., Aug. 4.—The Union Pacific railroad company is about to begin the construction of a new line between this city and Salt Lake City, eliminating the steep grades of Echo Canyon.

Insane Widow Fires Home.

Shelbyville, Ind., Aug. 4.—Three weeks ago the community five miles south of this city was annoyed by the reports that came from the home of Celeste Le Masters, a widow, concerning her house being visited by spooks. Close watch finally disclosed the fact that the noise was made by Mrs. Le Masters, who was suffering from the effects of a runaway accident. Wednesday relatives locked her home and took her to Indianapolis for treatment. That evening she boarded a late train, came to this city, and walking to her home destroyed most of the furnishings and attempted to burn the property. The woman returned to Indianapolis where she disclaims any knowledge of her acts.

Shoots His Wife, Then Dies.

Moline, Ill., Aug. 4.—Jealousy prompted Andrew Nelson, an aged and long time resident of Moline, to become enraged at his wife over some trifles. As they were retiring Nelson secured a shotgun from a corner and fired at his wife. The charge tore off the woman's right hand, thrown up as a guard, and plowed into her breast, inflicting a deep wound. Nelson then secured a penknife, jabbed three or four holes in his neck and in three-quarters of an hour he was dead. The wife gives promise of recovery unless blood poisoning sets in. Nelson was 77 years of age and his wife 67 years old.

Has Fifty Years Pension.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 4.—Nathan Young, a nephew of Brigham Young, returned from Australia this week after an absence of fifty years, during which he was mourned for dead. He is a veteran of the Mexican war and a pension of $15 a month has been accruing all this time, making a total of about $9,000.

French-British Commercial Treaty.

Paris, Aug. 4.—It is said that the commercial treaty between France and Hayti was signed at Port-au-Prince on July 31.

RIBBONS AGAIN IN VOGUE.

Fashionable Gown's Trimmed With Dainty Loops and Bows.

BY HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

It is a matter for congratulation that ribbon is coming into use again, for nothing ever was prettier than ribbon for trimming, and nothing ever sets off a garment so well as bows and loops of ribbon. The use of ribbon is likely to make up for lost time if we can judge by an importation for Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt for fine days at Newport. The whole dress is made of ribbon sewed on over rather stiff brussels net and trimmed with silk Russian fishnet in the accessories of cuffs, revers, collar and belt. The skirt of net was cut to fit around the hips and to a demitrain at the bottom. On the upper part were sewed rows of mauve satin ribbon so closely as to almost entirely hide the foundation. These reached to the knees, and from there the ribbon went around the skirt instead of up and down. The ribbon around it was in different widths and of striped taffeta, the stripes being narrow and black. The ribbon was set on straight, and it required much skill to get it on neatly and so that no folds show. The waist had the striped ribbon around the lower half and up and down on the lower part, and the sleeves have only the satin ribbon around. It opens in front over a guimpe of lace in the form of a vest, and a line of fine white lace is set on the edge. The Russian fishnet is white wrought with black chenille in cross stitch. Of this the revers are made and the deep mittlike cuffs. At the waist line there are two folds of the net over satin to match the shade in the ribbon. The high collar is of the net and has three narrow lines of lace at the very top and arranged so that one overlaps the other. In the front, where the waist fastens, there are 16 small gold buttons. If one said that the dress was made of brussels net and trimmed with ribbon, it would give very little idea of the real value and beauty of this gown, which must have cost half a fortune, for all the work is done by hand and most exquisitely. Not one stitch shows anywhere. Some of the new and specially designed dresses and light wraps intended for Newport wear are of such simple material that it is almost ridiculous to think of the prices set upon them, but it is the work that counts. We see gowns painted with all sorts of flowers, and this made up over silk, with any amount of lace ruffles at the bottom, and naturally the finished dress is going to cost a lot of money. Hand painting is seen on many things, among them being crepe de chine, swiss muslin and fine broadcloth. Enormous quantities of lace are used on dresses, and there are scarfs and bands of lace, in black mostly, though there are many in butter and cream as well as pure white. All sorts of devices are shown made of lace, the principal ones being the motifs and the figaros and the things just mentioned. The scarfs in black chenille are mostly used as sashes and ties, which are fastened loosely at the neck and left to float. Spanish lace is having a new popularity. Lace and ribbon are taking so large a place in all of the midsummer toiles that one must be forgiven for talking so much about them.

NET AND RIBBON GOWN.

Every season sees a host of new colors and tints brought out, but after all few are really chosen for general popularity. Those oftenest seen out of all those offered this season are white in its different shades, mauve, pale blue, with a little tan and its kindred shades and red in so many shades that I will not attempt to enumerate them. A talking fancy is to have a whole suit of red all in different shades of red. This makes a person look like a stick of The Jail Bird Boss.

There was a Jail Bird once upon a time in a small town in the state of Iowa. This J. B. had had all that he wanted, and it was his firm intention if he ever got another chance he would show what he was made of. Many other J. B.'s have made similar resolves. After he got out most everybody gave him the icy mitt, but finally he Accepted a Position (or, as some might say, Found a Job) in a Factory. He started in at $4 a week, working with the boys, for jail birds cannot afford to be either fastidious or finicky. They have to take whatever offers.

So the J. B. started to work. Now, in every shop or store there is always some one—man, boy or girl—who knows where things are.

If you set ten girls at work in a room, you will find by the third day that nine of those girls are asking the tenth girl these questions:

Is this all right?

Where is the thread?

What shall I do next?

And the tenth girl tells the others whether the work is right and where to find things & what they had better do next. In one week this tenth girl will be on hand a little earlier in the morning in order to lay out the work for the day, and at night she will stay a little later in order to put things away.

And she will show in various ways that she thinks of the work outside of working hours—between the time she goes home at night and the time she returns in the morning.

Of course, the quibbler will here interpose an objection to the effect that the probabilities are that the ten girls will be equally stupid, and one and all be absolutely listless unless inspired by fear of the Blue Eveeope or the coming footsteps of the Boss. I think, however, that the objection need not be seriously considered, for the fact is that at least one person out of ten is not only loyal, but has a goodly grain of executive ability that can be cultivated through exercise. Responsibilities gravitate to the person who can shoulder them, and power flows to the man who knows how.

And it so happened that before the J. B. was in that factory a month the boys were going to him asking him where things were. When they ran out of one kind of work, they would ask him what they should do next. And he, knowing the sequence of the work, would advise them.

Now, there be employers who are Proud and Overbearing, but others there be who have Common Sense. And it so happened that the man who owned the factory where the J. B. worked had a modicum of Common Sense. Seeing that the J. B. knew where things were and what should be done next and that the J. B. put the work away at night and got it out in the morning and planned things at home and picked things up instead of walking over them or kicking them aside, why the Boss encouraged the J. B. and raised his wages.

So the J. B. evolved into a Right Hand Man, and in time came to know a deal more about the details of the business than the Boss, and I believe eventually married the daughter of the Boss, inherited his money & became sole owner of the Factory; but of these things I am not certain, so I do not record them. But the little incident I am about to record really happened. One day the Boss saw two girls who worked in the factory coming in with a basket of wild clematis. These girls proceeded to festoon the pillars of the big room with the beautiful plant. "Who told you to do that?" demanded the Boss.

"Why, Mr. So-and-so," said the girls, referring to the J. B.

"Did you send those girls away during working hours after weeds?" asked the Boss shortly after of the J. B.

"Tainly," was the answer. "You see, I noticed those particular girls seemed very white and not very strong and sort of nervous and worn—they say they have things tough at home—and I just thought I would try to improve their complexions and spirits by giving them a run out in the sunshine."

"Oh! You thought they were getting Prison Pallor, did you?"

"Yes, you guessed it. I was thinking of Prison Pallor."

"And so contrived an excuse to send the girls on a two mile walk out across the fields?"

"Yes."

"Had Prison Pallor yourself, eh?"

"Yes."

"Used to look into a pocket mirror and thought it was a Ghost?"

"Possibly."

"Never saw the blue sky except through a grating or when walking lock-step across a stone paved courtyard."

"You have it."

"Well, look here, J. B. Don't stand around here keeping me from work. I wish 't Lord I could find a few more J. B.'s to help run this shebang. And, say, make a little list of the pale, nervous, yellow and scared girls and send them out by turn for clematis whenever the sun shines. Don't stand around keeping me from work. Don't you think I have anything to do myself? Go on with you!"—Philistine.

She Sat Still.

In one of the public schools of a large city, while the school was in session, a transom window fell out with a crash. By some means the cry of "Fire!" was raised and a terrible panic ensued. The scholars rushed into the street, shrieking in wild dismay. The alarm extended to the teachers also, one of whom actually jumped from the window.

Among hundreds of children with whom the building was crowded was one girl, among the best in the school, who, through all the frightful scene, maintained entire composure. The color indeed forsook her cheeks, her lips quivered, the tears stood in her eyes, but she moved not. After order had been restored and her companions had been brought back to their places the question was asked how she came to sit so still without apparent alarm when everybody else was in such a fright. "My father," said she, "is a fireman and knows what to do in such a case, and he told me if there was an alarm of fire in the school I must just sit still."—London Sunday School Times.

He Won.

"All right, then, we'll toss for it," said Tommy. "Here goes. You holler. Heads or tails?"

"Very well," replied little Emerson of Boston. "I prognosticate the falling of the obverse, uppermost."—Philadelphia Press.

A NOVEL CENSUS.

How the Beasts, Fish and Birds Will Be Counted.

The most novel of the censuses is that of the beasts, the fish and the birds, which is conducted by the Colorado Historical and Natural Society. It is taken periodically, and in the one soon to be conducted the co-operation of the fish and game wardens and of the school children has been enlisted. As the deer and buffalo and such game as the mountain sheep and mountain lion are fast disappearing, the Denver Republican explains, it is thought that the task of compiling statistics on their present numerical strength will be relatively easy.

The most difficulty will be experienced in being exact as to the number of prairie dogs, squirrels, snakes and frogs. Counting the fish will be easy, the number turned out by the fish hatcheries being the basis upon which the present population of the rivers will be mathematically computed. In counting the birds a bird having in any manner participated in the building of a nest now in existence in the state will be regarded as a citizen, as will all birds hatched in a nest now in existence in the state.

The school children will be called upon to count the nests in every township, and the list of nests will form the basis of the bird census. Sixty per cent of the number of eggs in nests reported at the time of the taking of the bird census will be included in the total on the ground that they will be hatched before the figures reach the public.

Paris Exposition Medals.

In addition to the medals already designed in commemoration of the Paris exposition three other medals will be struck in connection with congresses which will assemble during the exposition at the Palace of the Courts la Reine, says the Gaulois. The first medal, designed by M. Dupuis, is intended for members of the numismatic congress and represents numismatology as a nymph, seated and scrutinizing a coin. The second medal, commemorative of the congress of medicine, has been engraved by M. Vernon, and the third is by M. Roty, this being intended for members of the congress of values. On the obverse the third medal has a fine figure of the republic and on the reverse Fortune pouring into a coffer the contents of a cornucopia.

Where Weight Will Tell.

The Boxer insurrection, says the Kansas City Journal, will be effectually flattened out when the standing armies of the world sit down on it.

EASILY PROVEN.

There is Not the Slightest Necessity for Leaving Janesville to Look for Proof.

The experience given below by this well-known citizen of Janesville is easily proven. The proof he offers for his convictions can safely be left with the reader. It is a difficult matter to describe an aching back or any of the ills caused by disordered kidneys. How to cure the trouble is of much more importance, and the most exacting resident of Janesville cannot ask for any better authority on this point than that given by Veteran A. F. Lee, of 51 Sharon St., carpenter, who says:

For twenty years it troubled me a great deal, many days I could hardly keep at my work, and by rights should have staid at home and doctored. It was so when my back did not ache, and I have been completely laid up for three or four days at a stretch. When sleeping or lying sharp pains penetrated the kidneys, the secretions from those organs were too frequent, and accompanied by pain. I used all kinds of remedies but never gained permanent relief. Obtaining Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Co., I took them, and after the first three or four doses a noticeable change was brought about. I improved steadily from then on, and completing the treatment I was in good condition and am now well.

MISSIONARIES IN CHINA.

Rev. Dr. Judson Smith on Their Relation to the Present Outbreak.

Are not the missionaries the cause of these troubles? In no way. They are in China on a recognized and legitimate errand, specifically protected by treaty stipulations, and it is not even pretended that they have transgressed their treaty rights, says the Rev. Dr. Judson Smith, secretary of the American board of missions, in Leslie's Weekly. China makes no accusation against them as disturbers of the peace or as treaty breakers. If she dislikes them and their influence, it is open to her to ask for new treaties by which they shall be shut out of her domain. It is rather the dread of everything foreign, the fear lest China be drawn into the currents of western life and away from her past, that stirs the Boxers and fills the mind of the emperor and pushes the government and army into open antagonism to the great powers and the ideas they represent.

Not all the Chinese are in sympathy with this outbreak. The party of reformers that was gathered around the emperor and that had representatives in many of the provinces must wish to see this tumult suppressed, the emperor deposed, a government in favor of progress inaugurated and the sympathy of foreign nations rallied to lead China out of her weakness and along the path of progress and reform. The true welfare of the Chinese people lies in the achievement of this reformation, and the just interests of all foreign powers would be best promoted by this result. A new China is slowly rising in the midst of her millions, touched by genuine patriotism, taught by western learning, transformed and inspired by the gospel of Jesus Christ, already honored by the grace of true martyrdom.

What nobler service can the occident render than to guard this new national development and lead it on to strength and self control and a share in the best life and thought of the world?

HOUSE FOR WORKING GIRLS.

Boston Woman Gives Her Back Bay Home to Six For the Summer.

By the kindness of Mrs. Mary Kehew of Boston, prominent in philanthropic work, six young women of Boston are having a luxurious home during the hot summer months. She has thrown open to them her home at 317 Beacon street while she spends her leisure at Swampscott. One idea of Mrs. Kehew in doing this is to induce other persons to open their city homes, usually shut for the summer, to working girls compelled to live in the city.

The six girls to take advantage of this unusual act of kindness are Miss Ellen Huntington, an assistant in the housekeeping school on St. Botolph street, now in the Howard summer school; Miss Terrill, who employs her winters and summers in the same way; Mrs. Emma MacFarlane, a stenographer in a downtown office; Miss Mary Lee, a young woman who earns her livelihood with a needle, and Miss Crowley, an employee at the statehouse, says the New York Sun. They have the full run of the house. Then they pay $4 a week, which pays for all their meals, including the lunches which they take to their work and for a servant to care for the house and get the meals.

Miss Huntington, who is interested in scientific housekeeping, takes general supervision, goes marketing and handles the money. Thus far she has kept her bills easily in hand. This little family completed its fifth week the other day. They are to remain there until Sept. 3 and perhaps longer. The plan will be developed further and more systematically another year. It is hoped, so that the Back Bay may become a summer home of working girls.

Great Steamers For the Chicago-Detroit Line.

Two mammoth steel steamers will be built during the next year to run from Chicago to Buffalo, touching at Milwaukee, Mackinac Island, Detroit and Cleveland, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. Gregory, Huron of Milwaukee recently announced that a company with a capital of $2,000,000 is being organized to float the enterprise. There has been a tremendous demand for through passenger service between Chicago and Buffalo during the past five years. The steamers will be built at Chicago and Detroit by the American Shipbuilding company, and work will be begun on the big floating palaces in August. Each boat will be 470 feet long, or 100 feet longer than the Northland, and will cost about $800,000. Each steamer will have a carrying capacity for 900 passengers in addition to 5,000 tons of package freight.

Urges Cleopatra For a Model.

The convention of the National Association of Photographers at Milwaukee came to an end the other afternoon. There was an address by Professor A. H. Griffiths, who urged that more pictures of Cleopatra be taken for ideals, says the Chicago Record. He said she was the greatest of all subjects for fancy pictures.
